MCC Ward 32 by-poll

JD(S) WINS

SBM Manju wins by 307 votes, Congress loses deposit

Returning Officer Priyadarshini is seen handing over the election certificate to SBM Manju of JD(S), who was today declared winner in the by-poll held for MCC Ward 32 on July 2. Also seen are Mayor M.J. Ravikumar and MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha.

Mysuru, July 5 (MTY&VNS)- The ruling Congress party suffered a severe setback in the recently held by-polls for Ward 32 of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), Mandya ZP, Mandya City Municipal Council and Kolar City Municipal Council with JD(S) candidates emerging victorious this morning.

In the by-poll for Ward 32 of MCC, candidates SBM Manju (JD-S) and K. Madesh (BJP) had to wait till the last round for the final results to be announced while the Congress candidate B.K. Prakash lost his deposit securing a meagre 329 votes.

It was a question of prestige for JD(S) party to retain the Ward and so it did as its candidate SBM Manju won by a margin of 307 votes securing 2,424 votes out of the total 4,923 votes polled.

His nearest competitor K. Madesh of BJP managed to secure 2,117 votes.

The counting of votes was held at the Maharaja's Sanskrit Patashala next to MCC under the watchful eyes of Returning Officer Priyadarshini and MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha.

Right from the first round of counting, both Manju and Madesh were going head-to-head but it was in the sixth round that Manju emerged victorious as he secured 602 votes compared to 434 votes of Madesh in the final round.

Two independent candidates Mangala Gowri and B.J. Mahabalaraj secured 17 and 12 votes respectively while 24 voters opted for NOTA.

As soon as the results were announced, JD(S) activists burst fire crackers and shouted pro-JD(S), pro-H.D. Deve Gowda and pro-Kumaraswamy slogans.

There were also celebrations at Paduvarahalli and Valmiki Road junction with party activists bursting crackers and offering special pujas at Goddess Chamundeshwari and Lord Hanuman temples.

Surprising survival

The lyricist who scripted the lines of a song for the popular movie Pyaasa a few decades ago, sounding philosophical, conveyed the message that while people at large keenly looked forward to receive love from others in return for love got only a load of troubles. Likewise, the top brass in the government of a democratic nation most often get admonition instead of adulation from their detractors in return for all the pro-people acts. The wise have prescribed that one should be thankful to even small mercies. The fact that India has remained intact without facing disintegration, never mind the few occasions marked by aberration in its staying power, over seven decades of self-rule of different governments in charge of elected representatives of people qualified as well as not qualified for the onerous task of governance, deserves to be given prominent place in the pages of the country's history.

In the context of people justly wishing (and not necessarily contributing to realise that wish) for conditions in which they can live happily in peace, one is prompted to invoke two shanti mantras (briefly stated) namely a) Lokah Samastah Sukhino Bhavantu, b) Kale Varshathu Parjanya, attributed to some unidentified guru of vedic vintage. The beliefs and customs, part of which have survived in the land to this day may have egged on past generations to be focussed on the do's and don'ts that go with happy living. Present generation, barring exceptions, has no conviction in the message.

If one takes the trouble of writing down, as comprehensively as one can imagine, the commonly accepted positives and negatives in the land's goings on, one cannot avoid getting befuddled in visualising what the future holds for the country and its people of coming generations. While the generously gifted resources of nature (rivers, fertile soil, friendly climate with seasons of monsoon, mineral deposits, rich stock of plant species, livestock marked by virility and so on) must occupy top spot in the positives, the land's mass (human resource) taking increasingly to indiscipline in all spheres of life must mirror the land's major negatives.

The country's current headcount of 130 crore (and counting), while sounding numerically impressive is also diluting the intrinsic worth of the outcome from the nation's economy presently placed at more than one trillion dollars. The fiscal deficit of the 36 States and seven Union Territories, on the cusp of 5,00,000 crore rupees mirrors deficiency of both their governments and citizens at large in working hand-in-hand for efficiently managing the country's affairs. The fact that the nation is still surviving is no small surprise.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

What the hell are these netas doing? What horrible games are they playing? What will they tell the young of the nation when confronted? That the next President of India will be appointed based solely on that dreaded 'C-word' — caste — forget any other qualification? Caste has been India's curse for centuries. Yes, of course we can't wish it away. But surely we don't have to brazenly endorse it and shamelessly manipulate caste issues in order to score political victories? As Indians, we desperately crave the watching world's respect. We want India to be seated at the high table. We talk about being a superpower. We send rockets into space and launch hundreds of satellites. We expect the world to gasp and applaud. At the same time, we indulge in caste machinations of the lowest kind when it comes to the appointment of a person to the highest office in the land. — Shobhaa De in The Times of India.

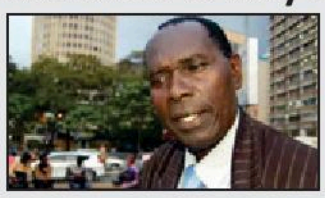
Lawyer tries to sue Israel & Italy !



Nairobi: An experienced Kenyan lawyer Dola Indidis recently filed a petition with the International Court of Justice (ICJ) in The Hague against the countries of Israel and Italy, as well as historical figures that have been dead for over 2,000 years, for the unlawful trial and crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

Dola Indidis first tried to sue Israel and Italy over Jesus' death in 2007. His petition to a Nairobi Court was dismissed, but the persistent man didn't give up. In 2013, he turned to the ICJ for the first time, arguing that Jesus' "selective and malicious prosecution violated his human rights through judicial misconduct, abuse of office bias and prejudice." Unfortunately, his case was thrown out, but in March of this year, Indidis once again appealed to the ICJ, hoping to finally make it to an actual trial.

"I filed the case because it's my duty to uphold the dignity of Jesus and I have gone to the ICJ to seek justice for the man from Nazareth," Dola Indidis told the newspaper.

Dolls into life like miniatures

California: Noel Cruz, a Filipino-American artist based in Anaheim, specialises in repainting mass-produced celebrity and character dolls, like those made by Mattel, into hyper-realistic miniature models of the people that inspired them. The results of his meticulous work are nothing short of awe-inspiring.

When Noel Cruz was 12 years old, he saw a 1974 Miss Universe Pageant on television through neighbour's window. He inspired by beautiful faces at once and started drawing portraits on pieces of paper. But he only discovered the fascinating world of repainted dolls several years later, after emigrating to the United States with his family. In 2001, while searching on eBay for a "Gene" doll for his wife's collection, Noel Cruz discovered repainted dolls, and was instantly drawn to their intricate features and general beauty. The talented artist soon discovered that painting facial features on a tiny surface was a lot different than doing it on a paper canvas, but after lots of trial and error, he managed to become a doll repainting master.

VOICE OF THE READER

Dr. No: The lucky patient!

Sir,

KBG's Point Blank titled "Dr. No" published in SOM dated July 3 reminded me of a similar incident. Recently, one of my employees had suffered a similar predicament. He had visited the K.R. Hospital, where the abscess had been opened surgically and the pus squeezed out. The wound was then dressed and he was prescribed some medication.

Within a couple of days, the wound was again swollen with pus, causing him acute pain.

I decided to take charge. I called up Dr. Nagaraj, the yoga expert, who had been featured in your newspaper a few years ago. He directed me to buy a homoeopathic medicine, HEPAR SULPH, one dram. It cost me Rs.20 ! I administered two doses (maybe about 1/10th of a dram). Within 3 days, the wound healed and the pain subsided completely. The total cost may have been about Rs.2 !!

Maybe it's my employee's (and my) luck.

Dangerous pothole on Kukke Subramanya road near Madikeri

Sir,

On Saturday morning I decided to go on a long drive. It was a wonderful drive from Mysuru to Kukke Subramanya via Kodagu; the road is good throughout.

As I descended the ghats of Madikeri, there was a pothole which could neither be seen nor was there any kind of signboard. I drove into it and was shocked by the way my car reacted. Everything inside my car vibrated with a bang sound and the wheel bent.

To my luck nothing much damage happened. But I heard that many accidents have taken place in the spot because of this pothole. Will the authorities concerned either fix the road or put up some signboard near that pothole to save precious lives?

When the shopkeeper returns the change, the woman start bargaining and seek a further reduction of price when the shopkeeper denies, the women kick up an argument and return the items purchased with the change and get back the Rs. 2,000 note. They leave in a hurry and when the shopkeeper checks the change it would be short by a sizeable sum.

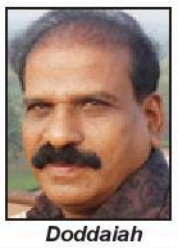
Mamatha said that when she checked the change returned by the women, it was short by Rs.1,000 (two notes of Rs.500). Later, Mamatha called up Police Control Room and informed the matter, it is learnt.

Revenue Inspector complains to SP on Srirangapatna MLA's behaviour

Ramesh Babu



Doddaiah

Srirangapatna, July 5 (US)- Revenue Inspector Doddaiah has lodged a complaint with SP Radhika alleging that Srirangapatna MLA Ramesh Babu Bandisiddegowda had abused him in foul language and intimidated him during a 'Janasamparka' meeting held at Naguvanahalli in the taluk on Monday.

Doddaiah has complained that the MLA heeding to the words of his supporters had abused him (Doddaiah) without any respect for a Government officer.

Reacting to a private TV channel over phone, Doddaiah alleged that the MLA had been ill-treating Government officers right from the beginning which was encouraging the supporters of the MLA which had prompted him to complain to the SP.

Doddaiah, in his complaint, is said to have alleged that the MLA had threatened over phone to kill the former if he went ahead with lodging a complaint against the henchmen of MLA who were continuously harassing the Revenue Inspector. Hence, Doddaiah has sought Police protection for him. He has also sent a voice recording of the phone call from MLA to Doddaiah where the former has threatened the life of the latter.

It is learnt that the MLA abused Doddaiah in the presence of Tahsildar which has wondered many people. Speaking to Star of Mysore, SP Radhika said that the complaint of Doddaiah has been received and added that the audio recording of life threat by MLA against Doddaiah was recorded on June 14, 2016. She further said that all possibilities would be examined.

The registered person opting to pay tax under composition scheme is required to pay an amount equal to the input tax credit in respect of inputs held in stock and inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock on the day immediately preceding the date of exercise of option. The ITC on inputs shall be calculated proportionately on the basis of corresponding invoices on which credit had been availed by the registered taxable person on such inputs.

In respect of capital goods held in stock on the day immediately preceding the date of exercise of option, the input tax credit involved in the remaining useful life in months shall be computed on pro-rata basis, taking the useful life as 5 years. Assume capital goods have been in use for 4 years, 6 months and 15 days. The useful remaining life in months will be 5 months ignoring the part of the month. If ITC on such capital goods is taken as C, ITC attributable to the remaining useful life will be C multiplied by 5/60. This would be the amount payable on capital goods.

The ITC amount shall be determined separately for integrated tax, central tax and state tax/Union territory tax. The payment can be made by debiting electronic credit ledger, if there is sufficient balance in the said ledger, or by debiting electronic cash ledger. The balance, if any in the electronic credit ledger would lapse. Such persons also have to furnish the statement in FORM GST ITC-03 which is a declaration for intimation of ITC reversal/payment of tax on inputs held in stock, inputs contained in semi-finished and finished goods held in stock and capital goods under Section 18(4) of the CGST Act, 2017 within a period of sixty days from the commencement of the relevant financial year.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka explains about how good or bad it is to feed vegetables to dogs!

My dog loves to eat peas and carrots. Is it good for him?

Vegetables are good for dogs, and a dog's diet should contact at least 25% vegetable matter. They provide nutrients, as well as offer a low-calorie addition to their diet.

When preparing vegetables for your dog make sure to cook them separately from your family meals. Dogs cannot consume most herbs, spices, and definitely should not have vegetables cooked in oils or garlic. A dog's digestive tract does not have the ability to break down vegetables as we do, and as a result they may prefer pureed or cooked vegetables over whole or chopped.

Vegetables have been known to help alkalize the body. Certain organs, like the liver, pancreas, gallbladder, heart, and kidneys, function better in a more alkaline environment. Which is why too much acidity can contribute to inflammation, which is responsible for a lot of chronic diseases. A diet of heavy meats can cause too much acidity to build up, creating more than just digestive issues for your dog. The addition of vegetables can counteract all the acid build up and help keep the dog's body healthy. Most vegetables are an excellent source of water. With so many dogs living in varying stages of dehydration, it is important that they can get water from sources other than their water bowl.

Vegetables contain a variety of healthy vitamins, minerals, and nutrients that can help treat a variety of degenerative diseases.

Broccoli: Broccoli is often coined the "super food" for humans. Rich in vitamins, and containing vitamin C, Calcium, and Fibre, it's a great additive to your dog's diet. However, it can be toxic in large quantities, so give it as a treat. Broccoli stalks can be a choking hazard, especially in small dogs, so it is advised to cut broccoli into small chunks as well as cook it.

Spinach: Adding Spinach to your dog's diet adds roughage, as well as needed antioxidants and iron. Spinach also contains high levels of the vitamin K, which helps maintain good bone health and growth.

Cabbage: Cabbage aids in digestion and improves the skin of your dog. If your dog has rough or dry skin, cabbage can help reduce skin irritation and promote healthy skin growth.

Green Beans: Green beans are a great source of fibre and can help your dogs lose weight by boosting their metabolism. Fresh green beans make a great treat in replacement of biscuits. You can also steam them and add them to dry dog food.

Carrots: Carrots are great for cleaning the teeth and gums of your dog. Carrots also help prevent tartar build up. For those dogs that hate their teeth brushed, try feeding them carrot sticks to help aid in the cleaning. Carrots are a great replacement treat over biscuits or other dog bones. They contain vitamins B, C, D, E, and K and can be fed either raw or cooked. However, most dogs prefer them raw if they eat them at all.

Sweet Potatoes: Sweet potatoes can be a great addition to your dog's diet, as they are low calorie. However, sweet potatoes are full of starches and should be limited.

Squash: Squash contains potassium and can be beneficial in reducing heart failure in dogs. Cooked or pureed squash provides added nutrients and significant amounts of Vitamin A and Calcium which helps to keep a dog's kidney's healthy.

Cucumber Slices: Due to the high potassium content in cucumbers they are good for teeth and bone growth. Cucumbers can also promote healthy livers and kidneys when paired with carrots.

Potatoes: Plain baked potatoes are okay for your dog in small quantities. However, never feed your dog raw potatoes, or let them eat the peels, eyes, or other parts of the plants, as these parts of the potatoes can be harmful.

Bell Peppers (red or green): Bell peppers are a great source of Vitamin C and contain an excellent source of beta carotene which can prevent cancer and decrease the chances of cataracts and other eye ailments in your aging dog. Bell peppers are also known to prevent arthritis as your dog ages.

If you have a picky eater, you can start by putting peanut butter on certain vegetables to try and get them to eat and like vegetables. Other options include mixing vegetables with plain noodles, or simply mixing it into their dry dog food. Once your dogs have started eating a few vegetables, odds are they will eat most any other vegetable you give them.

It's important to remember that dogs do not have the ability to break down plant cell walls, and their vegetables should be pureed or cooked before given to them. Pureed is better as it will keep the nutrients of the vegetables, unlike when you cook them. Chopping the veggies does not break up the cell walls enough for your dog's digestive system to break the food apart. Adding raw vegetables has a varied and wide range of health benefits. Vegetables will result in healthier teeth, gums, and improved breath. The right kinds of vegetables can boost your dog's immune system and help create a healthier and silkier coat. Knowing what vegetables to feed your dog can greatly improve your dog's quality of life.

First Public Bicycle Sharing facility in Asia...

Overwhelming response to Trin Trin

Mysuru, July 5 (SP&NNN)- The first Public Bicycle Sharing (PBS) system in entire Asia — Trin Trin — has evoked an overwhelming response in the past one month of its launch. In all, 2,250 people have registered, since Chief Minister Siddharamaiah inaugurated the facility in city on June 4.

Green Wheel Riders Manager Sagar, speaking to Star of Mysore, said that the demand had increased and requests are being made to extend the services to Ramakrishnanagar, Gokulam, Vijayanagar, JP Nagar and surroundings of all these areas. There is also a demand to provide service to Industrial Area as a separate cluster to benefit transit of workers, he said.

The Green Wheel has even come up with the statistics of the riders in the past one month and interestingly people in the age group of 30 to 40 years, which stands at 29.8 per cent, are using Trin Trin the most. This is followed by those in the age bracket of 20 to 30 at 29.6 per cent and in the age group of 40 to 50 at 20.9 per cent, while 11.3 per cent above 50 are using the bicycles.

Gone are the days when children in the age group of ten to 20 years would be going to the cycle shops that hired bicycles, wait for their turn to hire small bicycles designed especially for children and pay anywhere between 10 paise - 25 paise an hour to ride the bicycle. Now, only 8.4 per cent in the age group of less than 20 hire bicycles.

Every day 25 or more people are registering and at the counter near RTO on Vani Vilas Double Road nearly 50 registrations are taking place, said Sagar.

Maharaja's College student Prakash, who comes daily from T. Narasipur finds the facility a boon as it saves him time and he is free to commute from bus stand to his college which hardly costs him anything as the first hour is free of charge.

There are six registration counters at RTO, City Bus Stand, Mysore Palace, City Railway Station, KSRTC Suburban Bus Stand and near Mysuru Zoo. There is also one at the MysuruOne Centre in Jayanagar, Zone 2.

The bicycles can be released from the docking yards only through smart cards. Each smart card costs Rs. 350 that includes deposit money of Rs. 250, registration for smart card of Rs. 50 and recharge currency worth Rs. 50. The registration is only through online. However, smart cards can be obtained either by paying cash or credit, debit cards and even online and any identity card like an Aadhaar card is a must to obtain a smart card. The deposit of Rs. 250 is for lifetime, said Sagar.

Early risers using Trin Trin

The early risers, who go for jogging or walking and most of them middle-aged, are using the Trin Trin as a form of exercise too. They collect the bicycle from one point, ride for a distance and dock at another place close-by. Many evening walkers also prefer to use Trin Trin as a form of exercise.

Manju, a Bengalurean, who had come on work and stayed here for a week found the bicycle sharing system very useful. Speaking to Star of Mysore, she said that she has been using the bicycle that saves her the exorbitant auto charge, besides being free to go wherever she wants. "The cycles are well-maintained and the tyre pressure is always good. I will not forget this experience," she said.

The bicycles are available from 6 am to 8 pm but the cycles can be docked till 10 pm. There are 430 bicycles and in each docking station there will be eight bicycles. There are a few that has double docking station too where 12 bicycles are docked.

There is a dedicated team handling these bicycles. If one docking yard has only a few cycles, then the team gets a call and it takes the bicycles from the docking yard where there are more bicycles and place it in the yard with less ones, said Sagar and added if the bicycles are not returned in a day, then there are plans to impose penalty.

However, many still do not understand how the bicycle sharing system works, especially the uninitiated who also like to use the facility. If they have more information they would also use this facility, said a bicycle enthusiast K. Sreedhar.

This is the off-season and we are sure that during Dasara, even tourists including foreigners will be using this facility a lot, said Sagar.

No lapses in the Smart City report: MCC clarifies

Mysuru, July 5 - The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has clarified that there has been no lapses in the report submitted by it to the Union government for the inclusion of Mysuru under Smart City Mission.

Reacting to an article titled "Smart City Mission - If there is a will there could still be a way" published in Star of Mysore dated June 28, MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha has stated that several cities had sent their willingness and eligibility to be included in the Smart City initiative.

The SOM article had highlighted that citizens deserve an explanation from elected representatives and administrators as to why Mysuru was not included for the Smart City Mission despite it being the hometown of the Chief Minister.

The MCC Commissioner stated that the cities that were selected to be brought under Smart City had various parameters including service capabilities and management, internal resources gathering, number of individual toilets for households and public participation. Mysuru too had sent the proposals in the prescribed format along with supporting documents.

"Mysuru would not have been included in the Smart City Mission probably because of certain technical elements in the completed projects under the JnNURM and the parameters in audit report. The non-inclusion is not due to any lapses," the Commissioner clarified.

Mysuru has fulfilled the parameters under service capabilities and management and internal resources mobilisation and the audit report for 2012-13 has been completed. Presently, the audit for 2013-14 was under progress, he stated and added that as the final list of 100 cities to be included in the Smart City Mission has been finalised by the Centre, there was no provision of re-sending the proposal for the same.

Randeep making a point during the meeting.

Mysuru, July 5 (RKB&US)- The Legislative Committee on Welfare of Backward Classes and Minorities (BCM) held a review meeting regarding BCM hostels in the district at Zilla Panchayat auditorium here this morning.

The Committee, headed by J.R. Lobo, comprised Member Secretary Amba, Members P.M. Narendraswamy, M.D. Lakshminarayan, K. Abdul Jabbar, Suneel Subramani and Mankala Subba Vaidya.

Addressing the meeting, Lobo said that though the Government had doled out good schemes for welfare of students in BCM hostels, he regretted that the students had very badly performed in various examinations clearly indicating a lack lustre motivation by officers concerned. He pointed out that the Committee had already reviewed the performances in 17 districts and disclosed that Mysuru district was alarmingly poor in performance.

Lobo recalled that Mysuru was famous for good education and ironically slumped to lowest position with respect to education in BCM hostels. Squarely blaming the officers concerned, Lobo pointed out that the officers should have made good efforts to motivate and educate the hostel inmates instead of just sitting as silent spectators.

Lobo asked DC D. Randeep and ZP CEO Shivashankar to fix accountability for officers concerned to weigh their involvement and performance. He added that the Government would solve the problem of sites to construct the hostels soon.

SP Ravi D. Channannavar, MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha, DRDA Project Director Rani, BCM District Officer Somashekar, DDPI H.R. Basappa and others attended the meeting.

The by-election for Ward 32 was necessitated after the election of C. Mahadesh, who represented the Ward, was nullified after he was found guilty in a murder case and was imprisoned.

RTI activist demands withdrawal of Prof. Shivaraj's reinstatement

Mysuru, July 5 (SP&VNS)- RTI activist R.N. Satyanarayana has demanded the State Government to withdraw the reinstatement of B. Shivaraj to Bahadur Institute of Management Sciences (BIMS), University of Mysore.

Addressing press persons at Pathrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, Satyanarayana blamed the University for asking Prof. Shivaraj to go on compulsory retirement rather than dismissing him from service after the allegations against him were proven by investigations taken up by a retired Judge and Lokayukta.

Demanding the State Government to make the counter report public, if any, given by any other investigative agency, Satyanarayana added that it was unfortunate that State Government was supporting such tainted Professors in the University.

He also urged the Government to withdraw the reinstatement of Prof. Shivaraj else threatened to move Court over the matter.

It may be recalled that Prof. Shivaraj had been accused by the University of violating the University statute by 'attacking' the then Vice-Chancellor Prof. K.S. Rangappa besides questioning the earlier inquiry report in which he was held responsible for entering into MoU with University of Sistan and Baluchestan, Zahedan, Iran without following the statutes governing the recognition of foreign Universities approved by the Chancellor.

Prof. Shivaraj had also been charged for allegedly collecting Rs. 150 from each MBA student studying in affiliated colleges of the University and the Outreach Centres recognised by the University to distribute course-wares developed by industrial experts.

Following the allegations, the University of Mysore Syndicate had on Nov. 21, 2016 decided to send Prof. Shivaraj on Compulsory Retirement. Later, on June 12, 2017, the State Government passed an order nullifying the Syndicate's decision and reinstated Prof. Shivaraj.

Bhagirathi Bai took charge in the presence of her family members that included her elder brothers Janardhan Rao Kadam, Ramachandra Rao Kadam, sisters Vidya Bai and Tulasa Bai, brothers-in-law Tukaram Gadhe and Panduranga Pawar, well-known actors and theatre artistes Prakash Belawadi and Mime Ramesh, artistes and staff from Rangayana.

Bhagirathi Bai has two daughters Barka Bahar and Jia Bahar.

Involve special children

In a brief exclusive interview to Star of Mysore, Bhagirathi Bai Kadam recalled her journey and her involvement in the theatre movement.

"It was a 30-year penance for me and my journey began when my brother Lakshman Rao Kadam and my sister-in-law Veda introduced me to Ninasam in Shivamogga. However, one cannot compare it with Rangayana as each one offers different experiences."

She said that one of her plans was to involve special children in theatre. Recalling her involvement in Seagull Theatre, which she and her husband Baharul Islam, well-known in the world of Assamese theatre, started, she said, "We started the theatre against heavy odds as Assam is surrounded by insurgents. Just as Assam is known for Brahmaputra river, Mysuru is famous for Cauvery and I would strive hard for the confluence of these two rivers."

Stressing on the role of women in theatre, she said that she had plans to focus on women-centric plays and also on all-women ones. She reminisced on the influence of not only B.V. Karanth but also Jnanpith awardee Dr. U.R. Ananthamurthy and K.V. Subbanna of Ninasam.

Asked on how she felt when she received the National Award for her role in a Assamese film along with Dr. Rajkumar, who won the Dadasaheb Palke Award, she said that it was a lifetime experience to receive the award when the legendary actor Dr. Rajkumar also received the prestigious award.

"I will reach out to the highly talented artistes who have been working here since the inception of Rangayana and also the budding actors. I am an optimist and will make all efforts to take Rangayana to greater heights with the support of everyone connected with this unique theatre repertory," said Bhagirathi Bai, signing off.

Gunasheela Fertility Center Pioneers birth of India's first baby through PGS Technology on a Frozen Embryo

Gunasheela Fertility Centre, a wing of Gunasheela Surgical & Maternity Hospital – a pioneer that has introduced several firsts in the field of Infertility, has added another feather to its cap by facilitating the birth of First Baby in India through PGS Technology on a Frozen Embryo (in a 24 hour run). With this Gunasheela Fertility Center heralds a new wave in parenting and also reiterates its commitment to be at the forefront of introducing innovative technologies. If for Gunasheela Fertility this was demonstration of its cutting edge parenting technology yet again, for Shilpashree, and married for 19 years this was the moment of reckoning as she became the proud mother of a healthy baby girl weighing 2.52 kgs. Post-delivery both the baby & mother are doing well, and to the satisfaction of medical team and the couple this high risk pregnancy yielded desired results with no major complications right from the conceiving stage to delivery.

Dr. Devika Gunasheela, Fertility Specialist, Gunasheela Fertility Centre, said, Shilpashree (38 years old) and Satyanarayan (aged 49 years) visited our facility in 2013 with secondary infertility having had one abortion almost 17 years back. On investigating, our team diagnosed Shilpashree with polycystic ovarian disease and her husband Satyanarayan had low sperm count. Following this diagnosis, she was advised for IVF / ICSI cycle in 2013 in which she conceived and it was a twin pregnancy. But unfortunately she had a miscarriage at 5 months of gestation.

Her second IVF / ICSI cycle was in October 2014 in which no fresh transfer was done in view of maternal fever. She underwent frozen embryo transfer in January 2015 in which she conceived and had an abortion at 1 ½ months. In view of the advanced age of the couple and severe male infertility factor, the couple was advised to have Preimplantation Genetic Screening (PGS) test, pointed out Dr. Devika Gunasheela. In January 2016, we did PGS on five embryos of which only one embryo was normal which we transferred. She conceived and it was a high risk pregnancy in view of her advanced age, Lupus Anticoagulant positive, Gestational Diabetes & on insulin; Blood Group Rh factor – negative and Hypothyrodism. Further, Dr. Devika Gunasheela indicated we did shirod cervical ligature because of her previous mid-trimester miscarriages. Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41

Revenue Secretary to hold meeting soon, says DC

Mysuru, July 5 (SBD&NNN)- Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep has said that a decision on the controversy-ridden Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41 is likely to be taken at a meeting being called by the Revenue Secretary within a week.

The Regional Commissioner has already submitted a report with regard to the land and property dispute on these areas. Added to this, information has also been given on a few writ petitions filed. Hence, there is likelihood of a meeting being called shortly, he told Star of Mysore.

The Government had declared Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41 as "B Kharab" (Government Land). However, Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) had developed layouts in Siddarthanagar, K.C. Nagar, Vidyanagar and other layouts in surrounding areas and the residents here are facing untold miseries because of this unscientific classification.

This decision has resulted in non-issuance of khatas, title deeds, building plans, completion certificates thus legally preventing them from selling their properties, mortgaging them to raise loans or to partition properties to meet their commitments.

The affected residents have protested several times demanding a solution to their problems. Even the local MLA M.K. Somashekar had assured the residents in March this year to resolve the issue. As a result, it looks like the government will be responding to the problems of the people. Hence, after the meeting, the decision will be placed before the Cabinet and the problem will likely be solved.

Zoo authorities asked to implement Kannada strictly

Kannada Development Authority Chairman Prof. S.G. Siddaramaiah chairing a meeting regarding the implementation of Kannada in the Zoo at the Zoo premises yesterday as others look on.

Mysuru, July 5 (PM&NNN)- Kannada Development Authority (KDA) Chairman Prof. S.G. Siddaramaiah has taken strong exception against the Mysuru Zoo authorities as it does not use Kannada in its website nor do shops inside the Zoo display Kannada on their boards.

He was speaking at a meeting he was chairing yesterday regarding the implementation of Kannada in the Zoo and expressed his displeasure to the Zoo Executive Director K. Kamala Karikalan.

Reacting to this, Kamala Karikalan said that there were some technical issues which is getting sorted out and once it is ready, Kannada language will be used in the website and action will be taken to give importance to Kannada on the signboards.

Earlier, Prof. Siddaramaiah who went around the Zoo in a battery-operated vehicle, said that he found that Kannada language had been implemented in 75 percent of the signboards and only a few shops had English signboards. There is no objection to using English but Kannada should be given prominence, he advised.

He also pointed out that all the correspondence from the Zoo was being done in English and even the rubber stamps were in English besides releasing ads in English in Kannada newspapers. He gave a photocopy of the documents to the Executive Director to prove his point.

In response to this, Kamala Karikalan said that as there were inter-State correspondence for exchange of animals, use of English became inevitable. Siddaramaiah said that if that was the case, why were lower-level staff also using English in their correspondence. He asked her to correct this anomaly and start using Kannada in correspondence. He also took objection to the absence of Additional Chief Conservator of Forests at the meeting.

The Kannada Jagriti Samiti team, led by Prof. Siddaramaiah, perused the documents to find out about the implementation of Kannada. Also, former KDA Chairman Chandrashekar Patil (Champa) was felicitated on the occasion.

Zoo Authority of Karnataka Chairman Mallige Veeresh, City Congress President R. Murthy, KDA Secretary Dr. K. Muralidhar and others were present.

The documentary will throw light on the Zoo keepers and their emotional relationship with the animals.

A few of the animals behaviour will also be shown in the documentary which will be screened both in Kannada and English.

Complaint against woman for producing fake documents to claim job

As Manjula had not applied for the job within a year of the death of Kariyamma, her application was rejected on July 7, 2011.

But Manjula on Nov. 2, 2015, again submitted an application for the job along with the Family Tree certificate from the Tahsildar's office, which had mentioned Manjula as 27-year-old, daughter of late Kariyamma.

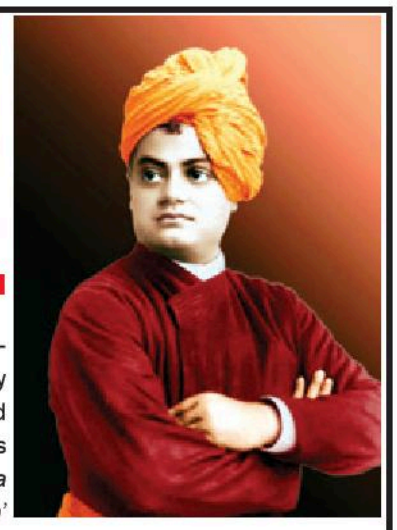
Voices from the Grassroots

Seeing God in Man...



By Dr. R. Balasubramaniam

This incident happened a few years ago. I was walking towards Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama in Mysore and was waiting at a signal-light to cross the road. Being a 4-way junction, the wait seemed to be a long one. It was then that I noticed a middle-aged woman selling bananas by the street corner.

Working with street vendors for a few years now, I had learnt that life was never easy for them. From meagre profits, to haggling customers, to corrupt civic and Police officials — they had to deal with them all on an everyday basis. My intelligent guess was that this woman would possibly earn not more than Rs. 40-50 as profits on a good day.

Validating my thoughts, I found one customer haggling as though his entire future depended on it. And all this for an extra banana that he thought was his rightful due. The haggling gradually evolved into a heated argument and finally ended with the woman angrily asking her customer to find another vendor to haggle with.

It is strange how one sees no compunction in bargaining with a street vendor to reduce the cost of the stuff we buy, but the same person would hand out money in a large departmental store for the same item without even batting an eyelid. It was only after this angry dialogue had subsided could I hear a 4-to-5-year-old girl standing and sobbing by the way side. She seemed to be hardly noticed by either the tens of pedestrians or the innumerable vehicles driving by.

On hearing her sobs, this street vendor spontaneously reached out to her to inquire if she was lost and crying for her mother. The little girl pointed to the construction across the street and mentioned that her mother worked there. Her sobbing was due to her unbearable hunger and that her mother had nothing to give her.

Without batting an eyelid, I found this woman street vendor tear out a couple of bananas and thrust them into the child's hands. And then quietly returned to her business…Not being able to contain myself, I asked her about what she had done. In her own characteristic way, she simply said that here was a poor hungry soul in need of help and she just extended it. That was it — neither complex theories of development nor any high spiritual explanation. Just a simple humane response from one human being to another. And this very same woman had refused to yield to a customer who was keen on getting a 'good deal' from her.

Finding her vending so close to the Ramakrishna Ashrama, I enquired whether she had heard of either Sri Ramakrishna Paramahamsa or Swami Vivekananda. While both these names meant nothing to her, here she was living their philosophy in the only way she understood it. Sri Ramakrishna's exhortation of 'Shiva Jnane, Jeeva Seva' (Knowledge of God through the Service of Man) to his disciples came effortlessly to her.

Swami Vivekananda had proclaimed 'Daridrana-rayano bhava' (the Poor are my Gods) and here was this poor woman worshipping the only God she knew. It is no exaggeration to say that the poor are the ones who understand poverty and hunger the best. While the rest of us are more adept at intellectualising and spending endless hours in debating poverty and hunger, here was this noble soul living the message of Swami Vivekananda without even having heard of him. This was truly Swami Vivekananda and his message in action. And in her own quiet way, she had taught me a valuable lesson that no University or a religious discourse could do.

Wimbledon Championships 2017

Federer, Djokovic advance for Round 2

London, July 5- Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic said Wimbledon should consider rule changes after both their first-round opponents retired with injuries. Third seed Federer led 6-3, 3-0 when Ukrainian Alexandr Dolgopolov quit with an ankle injury after 43 minutes.

Second seed Djokovic progressed after a calf injury saw Martin Klizan pull out at 6-2 2-0 down on 40 minutes.

Both Klizan and Dolgopolov have struggled with injuries recently and their retirements were among seven in the men's draw and one in the women's over the first two days of the Championships.

The men's tour, the ATP, introduced a rule at the start of 2017 that means a player can retire before a first-round match and retain their prize money.

A lucky loser then gets the place and money earned from qualifying, plus any further prize money accrued from the second round onwards. The rule is not in place at the four Grand Slam tournaments.

First-round losers at Wimbledon earn 35,000 pounds this year, potentially encouraging players to take to the Court when they know they are not fit enough to compete.

ICC Women's World Cup 2017

Indian eves to take on Sri Lanka

London, July 5 - India sits at the top of the ICC Women's World Cup 2017 standings after three games, but captain Mithali Raj says her team still has plenty to work on as it prepares to face Sri Lanka today.

Raj's team has won all three of its games so far in the Women's World Cup but needed its bowlers to dig it out of trouble against Pakistan in Derby on Sunday.

India was restricted to just 169 from its 50 overs and Pakistan had looked to be in a good position to get its first win of the competition but Ekta Bisht's excellent spell of five for 18 helped bowl Pakistan out for just 74.

However, Raj is more concerned about India's batting and is keen for her side to build partnerships when it faces Sri Lanka.

Mansi Joshi came into the side for her first game of the tournament and took two for nine as India kept up its perfect record.

Despite losing all three of its opening games, Sri Lanka captain Inoka Ranaweera says there are positives to take from the performances, including Sunday's seven-wicket defeat to England.

And with Sri Lanka unlikely to progress to the knock-out stage, Ranaweera is keen for her side to end its stay in England on a high.

WORD OF THE DAY

Sotto voce

Pronunciation: sot·to vo·ce \ˌsä-tō-ˈvō-chē\

Meaning: In a low, soft voice so as not to be overheard; under the breath: in an undertone; also: in a private manner; very softly — used as a direction in music.

Origin: There is usually a pretty straight line from Latin to Italian. Italian sotto, meaning "under, below," comes from the Latin adverb subtus "below, beneath." Italian voce comes from Latin voc-, the stem of the noun vox "voice, sound." The phrase entered English in the 18th century.

Example: And they are superbly complemented by Claude Pieplu, as the amoral man of concentrated ambition whose utmost cruelties are uttered sotto voce — so as not to trouble a sleeping child.— Judith Crist, "A Repast of Things Remembered," New York, May 27, 1974.

The prelude was projected onto a piece of white fabric that looked like a bedsheet, and probably was one — arts budgets being what they were, as Gavin commented to Reynolds, sotto voce.— Margaret Atwood, "Revenant," Stone Mattress: Nine Wicked Tales, 2014.

THE ODD WORD

Selcouth

Strange, unusual, rare; unfamiliar; marvellous, wondrous.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

No Strings Attached

Meaning: The phrase "no strings attached" refers to the act of doing something without asking for anything in return.

Origin: The origin of the phrase "no strings attached" is directly tied to 18th century fabric merchants who would mark flaws in woven cloth by tying small strings to the bottom of the bolts at the locations where flaws were present. When a tailor or dressmaker needed flawless cloth, he or she would ask the merchant to provide them with fabric "with no strings attached." This custom persists today.

Example: When someone says that they are in no strings attached relationship, it means that they are not answerable to their partner in any way. There is no commitment or promise that the relationship will develop into something more. It may or may not.

QUOTE BOX

There are strings in the human heart that had better not be vibrated.

—Charles Dickens
